

Cal Ripken, Jr. had a great job. He was a major league baseball player. He played for the Baltimore Orioles. His position was shortstop for most of his career. When he got older, he played third base. His brother, Billy, was a baseball player, too. His dad, Cal Ripken, Sr. was a baseball coach. Cal holds the record for the most consecutive games played in all of major league baseball. He played 2,632 games in a row before retiring! That's a lot of baseball!

Questions:

1. What team did Cal Ripken, Jr. play for?
2. What was his position for most of his career?
3. What position did he play when he got older?
4. What was his brother's name?
5. How many games did Cal play before retiring?